TALWANDI SABO POWER LIMITED
SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

Introduction

Vedanta Limited (the 'Company') has an approved Business Ethics & Code of Conduct Policy under which every employee is expected to maintain highest level of integrity and ethical behaviour. However, a need is being felt to have a separate policy to handle any cases related to sexual harassment.

Talwandi Sabo Power Ltd. (the 'Unit') as part of Vedanta Group is an equal opportunity employer and believes in providing opportunity and key positions to women professionals. While it has been the endeavor of the Group to encourage women professionals, at the same time the Company feels that proper policies should be in place to tackle issues relating to safe and proper working conditions for women.

Background:

The protection against sexual harassment and the right to work with dignity are universally recognized human right by various international conventions and instruments such as Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW). The said convention was adopted in General Assembly of UN by votes of 130 to none with 10 abstentions. 64 states adopted the said convention and two states submitted their instruments of ratification immediately. After 20 states ratified this on 3 September, 1981 the Convention entered into force – faster than any other previous human rights convention. The United Nation's efforts to codify comprehensive international legal standards for women fructified in 1981. Government of India have ratified this convention on 25 June, 1993.

One of the requirements of the convention is for the states to have a legislation to protect the interests of the working women.

The Supreme Court of India in its 1977 judgment of Vishakha & others vs. State of Rajasthan & others made it obligatory for every employer and other responsible persons to follow the guidelines laid down by the Court and to evolve a specific policy to combat sexual harassment in the workplace.

The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Bill, 2012 was passed by Lok Sabha on September 2012, and has been subsequently passed by the Rajya Sabha on 26th February 2013. The President of India has given his assent to the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Bill, 2013. It has now been published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, Part-II, and Section-1, dated the 23rd April 2013 as Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention,

TALWANDI SABO POWER LIMITED
SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

Prohibition and Redressal) Act No. 14 of 2013 (referred hereunder as 'Act') and has come into force from December 09, 2013.

As stated in the Act, it aims to provide protection against sexual harassment of women at workplace and for the prevention and redressal of complaints of sexual harassment and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. Sexual harassment at workplace results in violation of the fundamental rights of a woman to equality under Articles 14 and 15 of the Constitution of India and her right to life and to live with dignity under Article 21 of the Constitution and right to practice any profession or to carry on any occupation, trade or business which includes a right to a safe environment free from sexual harassment. Protection against sexual harassment and the right to work with dignity are universally recognized human rights by international conventions and instruments such as Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination against Women.

1. Definitions and Explanations:

It has been laid down in the above Act that it is the duty of the employer or other responsible persons in working places or other institutions to prevent or deter the commission of acts of sexual harassment and to provide the procedure for the resolution, settlement or prosecution of acts of sexual harassment by taking all steps required. For this purpose, sexual harassment includes such unwelcome sexually determined behaviour (whether directly or by implication) as:-

- a. Physical contact and advances;
- b. Demand or request for sexual favour/ implied or expressed threat of reprisal, for refusing to comply with a sexual request;
- c. Making sexually colored remarks;
- d. Showing pornography; or
- e. Any other unwelcome physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct of sexual nature.
- f. Reprisal or threat of reprisal against an individual for any action they take following this policy and its procedures.
- g. Any implied or express reward for complying with a sexually oriented advance or request.

The following circumstances, among other circumstances, if it occurs or is present in relation to or connected with any act or behaviour of sexual harassment may amount to sexual harassment against women:—

- (iii) Hospitals or nursing homes;
- (iv) Any place visited either by air, land, rail or sea by the employee arising out of, or during and in the course of employment;

“Employer” means—

- (i) in relation to any department, organization, undertaking, establishment, enterprise, institution, office, branch or unit of the appropriate Government or a local authority, the head of that department, organization, undertaking, establishment, enterprise, institution, office, branch or unit or such other officer as the appropriate Government or the local authority, as the case may be, may by an order specify in this behalf;
- (ii) in any workplace not covered under sub-clause (i), any person responsible for the management, supervision and control of the workplace.
- (iii) in relation to workplace covered under sub-clauses (i) and (ii), the person discharging contractual obligations with respect to his or her employees;
- (iv) in relation to a dwelling place or house, a person or a household who employs or benefits from the employment of domestic worker, irrespective of the number, time period or type of such worker employed, or the nature of the employment or activities performed by the domestic worker.

II. What is NOT Sexual Harassment?

Sexual harassment does not refer to normal conversation that all parties affected find acceptable. It does not refer to office relationships that are freely entered into without intimidation or coercion.

The words and expressions used in the policy shall have same definitions as provided thereto under the Act, if there arises any contradiction the interpretation given to the term/word under the Act shall sustain, and shall be taken into consideration for conducting the inquiry.
