NATIONAL CLEANLINESS DAY

TSPL employees clean village

BATHINDA, JANUARY 31

To pay tributes to Mahatma Gandhi, more than 100 employees of the Talwandi Sabo Power Limited (TSPL), along with other workers, observed National Cleanliness Day.

They cleaned Banawali village. The initiative was taken under the total ownership programme of the company where employees extended support for keeping the environment clean.

With a unique initiative at the Government Primary School, a rally was organised by students to motivate villagers. Teachers visited houses of students to see cleanliness and hygiene.

Out of 110 families visited during the rally, the top 10 families were rewarded for clean house and surrounding environment.

The company is also providing dustbins at the village for safe disposal of waste. Awareness slogans and paintings were also made to create awareness.

Chetan Shrivastav (O and M head), Sameer Nayak (maintenance head), Debabrat Mishra (HR head) and Ashwini Mittal felicitated the villagers by distributing prizes.

Philip Chacko said, "As a responsible corporate, it's our duty to engage with local communities to create awareness on burning social issues and support them to overcome the problems."

Sarpanch Balraj Singh and the community appreciated the effort and also shared that such initiatives definitely helped in building strong and healthy relations with each other.

Vishal Agarwal said, "Cleanliness is a very important aspect of life. Clean environment and clean body promotes good health. So, keeping the surroundings clean is the first step towards better health and quality of living".

In the past, various initiatives had already been taken by the plant to promote environment by developing green belt inside the premises as well as promoting environment-friendly activities in the area.

A similar initiative was also taken by the company where employees cleaned area outside the premises a few months ago. — TNS
